DEDICATION

Lawrence R. DeChatelet, Ph.D.

The dedication of the annual has traditionally gone to an individual who has demonstrated excellence in teaching and dedication to his work. Dr. Lawrence DeChatelet, to whom we dedicate this annual has combined these virtues with a special courage to overcome a personal form of adversity which cannot be shared. His enthusiastic and unselfish devotion of his time along with his honest intelligible answers to our questions have influenced us all and will continue to be greatly appreciated. That Nobel may be within reach after all.

IN MEMORIAM

Lisa Dull

Her kindness brought happiness
 Her humor and shy smile gave pleasure
 Her character inspired trust
 Her intelligence provided innovation and efficiency
 Her life induced joy
 Her death brought shock, sad emptiness,
 and an acute awareness of our temporal existence
 We are grateful for our moments with her
 We shall miss her very much

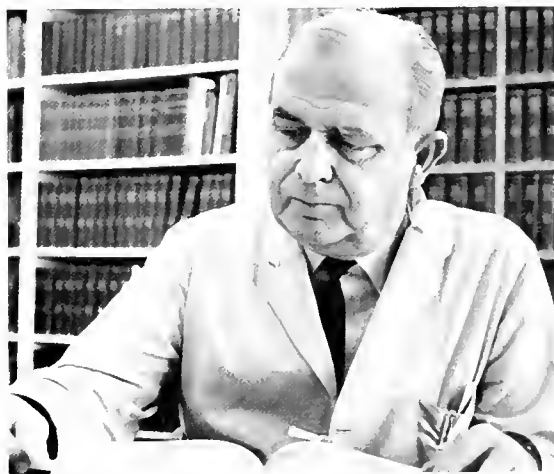

John D. Tolmie, M.D.

Katharine Hunter Anderson, M.D.

In 1943 Dr. Katharine Anderson began her Pediatrics practice in Winston-Salem. She was on the staff at City-Forsyth Memorial Hospitals and faculty of the Bowman Gray School of Medicine where she became Professor Emeritus. For thirty three years she taught medical students, house officers, physician's assistants, nurses, her fellow physicians, as well as parents and grandparents how to restore and maintain health. Dr. Anderson also took an active part in many local, state and national medical and non-medical societies; always an active advocate for children's rights to mental, and physical health. Today this world is a better place because Dr. Katharine Anderson passed our way. Her leadership and insight has touched many lives. Thanks to her, the Bowman Gray School of Medicine and the health of many people have been greatly enriched by association with this gracious person.

Ruth O'Neal, M.D.

Richard Lafayette Burt, M.D.

Dr. Richard Burt, former professor, chairman for the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, and friend recently passed away after twenty four years as a dedicated faculty member here. He played a critical part in the maturation of our medical school, establishing a graduate training program and pioneering research in reproductive biology which brought international recognition to him and prominence to our institution. This and his numerous other contributions left an imprint and legacy that will long give momentum towards our goal of academic excellence.

WE'VE SEEN THE FUTURE.
AND IT WORKS.

Everyone thinks the future of work-saving machines is ... what's the latest gimmick we can wow them with? But has everyone forgotten what work-saving machines are supposed to do? Namely, work. At Savin we have a special genius for making machines more reliable than anyone ever thought was possible. Take the Savin 780 Copier. It was built from the plug up to be faster, easier and more reliable. For instance: Paper travels 12 inches, not 4 feet, to prevent jam-ups. For instance: A scanning brain that automatically determines how to correct a bad original and make a sharp copy. For instance: Easy-to-load paper cassettes you can switch from letter to legal size in a second. For instance: Automatic collating of both original and copy.

There are more "for instances" but we'll just say this. Savin is now placing more plain paper copiers than Xerox and IBM combined. And this. Savin is so certain our machines work reliably that we back them with an eight-year continuous maintenance agreement. The future is the Savin 700 series. And they work. And that's one giant step for office kind.

Formaldehyde and scalpels gay began our years at Bowman Gray
And no one thought he'd ever lament that chunk of life so painfully spent . . .
Some for the money, some for the fame
others smelled power—no one's the same.
Some of us thought, when we passed through this hall
we'd know all the answers; we'd have it all.
So now there's "M.D." at the end of our names and lovely diplomas will shine in their frames
But many of us all blundering still
We scurry and worry; some always will—
A few have learned wisely: Acceptance is key to keeping yourself unencumbered and free
Remember you're human, throw "perfect" away—
Enjoy the journey, and be on your way.

Pam Pappas

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

We would like to express our gratitude to all those persons who contributed their time and talents to this book and helped make it all possible. We especially appreciate Parke Davis Company for allowing us the use of the portrait "Hippocrates: Medicine becomes a science," as our cover. In the audiovisual department, our thanks goes to Joyce Black and Martha Urbanik for their patience and chocolate cake; Joe Roselli, Beverly Perry and Ellen Henson for their special artistry; Jack Dent and Paris Kirdand for all their photographic efforts and for tolerating the extremes of human nature. Also, to Phillis Edelman for typing the freshman section and not divorcing her husband; Mary Penry, R.N. for being a "fetus in distress;" Dr. John Tolmie for "calming the seas" from time to time; Dr. Ron Mack for his sense of humor; Dallas L. Mackey and the Office of Information and Publication; Nancy Exstrand; Allan Johnson; Lisa Dull; Mike Ward; and all others who contributed their energies to this 1979 edition of the Gray Matter, we express our sincere thanks.

Robert J. Cole , editor
